

MODERATION

IEC is Affiliated with a private international university, Limkokwing University of creative technology, the students of IEC are certified by the international university with the equivalency approval from Tribhuwan University of Nepal. Every student is properly evaluated based on their overall performances both internally and externally throughout the semester.

The representatives from the Limkokwing University visit IEC every year for the purpose of moderation. During the period of moderation, the evaluation of students of all semesters is carried out based on their individual academic performance, assignments, portfolio, regularity, extracurricular performance records and then the results are assured and signed for approval.

The experts from Limkokwing University not only carry out the evaluation but also the college performances regarding staffs, the college efforts on student's performance enhancements and the possible guidance to the students in their career developments. During the moderation, representatives from university also schedule trainings for the lecturers and management staff in terms of the criteria they set out to update the quality of education. With all the guidance and working together with International University, this process of moderation makes the process of evaluation fair and non-bias.

Hence, all these activities of moderation helps to maintain the standard of college operation and makes IEC stand out as number one in course of time.
